CHEMIST'S REPORT INDICATES MURDER OF MRS. SHEATSLEY

No Trace of Gas, Soot or Ashes Found In Lungs of Woman Who Was Burned in Furnace.

THOT STRANGLED

Columbus, O., Nov. 22 (INS).—With the report of an analytical chemist, who examined the lungs of Mrs. C. V. Sheatsley, Bexley furnace victim, pointing toward death by strangulation, Franklin county prosecutor King and his assistants today returned to the scene of the tragedy to start their investigation anew.

C. F. Long, the chemist, reported to the prosecutor that his examination of Mrs. Sheatsley's lungs disclosed no traces of carbon monoxide, which it is claimed would have been evident had the Lutheran minister's wife breathed after entering the furnace in which she was cremated last Monday afternoon.

The theory was advanced by the chemist that Mrs. Sheatsley died either by strangulation or suffocation and that her body must have been thrust into the furnace after she died, Long preferred to accept strangulation as the cause of the woman's death, he said.

Dr. H. M. Brundage was making pathological examinations of the organs today at the instance of Long. He probably will not be ready to report before Monday, it was said.

Three ounces of Mrs. Sheatsley's blood were examined by the chemist. He said five different tests failed to reveal carbon monoxide. Also, he said there was no evidence of carbonic acid, soot or ashes in the organs.

The chemist's report with its inferences of murder, came at a time when authorities probing the tragedy had about concluded death was due to suicide that Mrs. Sheatsley crawled into the furnace after suddenly becoming insane.

Rev. Sheatsley, the victim's husband, was first to come forward with the theory that his wife ended her own life. He told the prosecutor Wednesday that, after due deliberation, he was convinced Mrs. Sheatsley crawled into the furnace.

Youthful Bandits Held Up Two Bandits In The Middle West Yesterday

Oakwood, Ill., Nov. 12 (INS).—Two boys, both aged under 12, held up the State Bank of Oakwood less than five minutes after it opened for business today, secured $1,000 in cash and $1,500 in Liberty Bonds and escaped. President Andrews, a customer and a girl who entered that bank during the robbery, were forced into a vault by the boys just before they fled.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 21 (INS).—Two boy burglars were captured in Kansas City today after they had been shot and fatally wounded in a battle with J. L. Rice, night watchman, at Lone Jack, a suburb.

The watchman caught the boys as they were attempting to loot a garage and opened fire.

The boys gave their names as Perry Ingold, 19, and Charles Carroll, 21.

HEALTH CONDITIONS FINE

One case of chickenpox reported to the Board of Health was the sum total of contagious disease to develop in Clearfield during the past week, according to Secretary Gault's weekly health report. During the week one case of diphtheria and one case of chicken pox were released from quarantine. One case of diphtheria and two cases of chicken pox are under quarantine in the town at present. The diphtheria is in the Third Ward and the chicken pox cases in the Fourth Ward.

LOCKING THE STABLE BEFORE HORSE IS STOLEN GOOD BUSINESS; NURSING SERVICE IS BEST KIND OF INSURANCE

Up to late last evening a grand total of but $2,296.85 had been reported to Red Cross headquarters in the drive being waged to keep community nursing here for another year. This is much better than the city did last year and we can take much comfort from that but the sad fact remains that the aforesaid amount is still short many hundreds of dollars of the amount required to carry on the all important work.

Tomorrow is Sunday. Perhaps with the story of the Great Teacher of charity ringing in men's ears tomorrow there will be an unloosening of the purse strings and more money subscribed.

There seems to be considerable interest yet. Three subscriptions were handed to The Progress yesterday, one of a dollar from F. N. Davis of Hyde. Thanks, Mr. Davis. One of $5 from Mrs. Elizabeth King, corner Locust and Fifth streets, and one for $5 from the Thomas H. Murray Bible Class of Trinity M. E. Sunday school. All this is appreciated.

Making a contribution to this work now, in order that cases may be handled promptly on discovery, is much better than waiting for poverty and disease to take a death toll because of non-discovery or lack of funds to take care of a case when discovered. Maintaining the nursing service is simply the good sense of locking the stable before the horse is stolen.

Publishers Of All Ohio Dailies to Attend Funeral Of Mrs. Harding In Body

Marion, O., Nov. 21 (INS).—The members of the Associated Ohio Dailies, a body of publishers of which President Harding was one of founders and in which he was active during all of his newspaper life, have been called by R. C. Snyder, president, to meet here next Monday to attend Mrs. Harding's funeral. Arrangements have been made for reservations at Epworth Methodist Church so that the publishers may attend as a body.

The following telegram has been sent by Mr. Snyder to all the members of the organization:

"Several members have suggested the importance of the Associated Ohio Dailies showing fullest possible measure of respect to the widow of one of the founders, and illustrious leader of our association. I urgently request that you meet with us at the Marion Star at 1:00 p. m. next Monday to attend Mrs. Harding's funeral as a body. Reservations have been made for us at Epworth Methodist Church."

In making local arrangements for this evidence of respect to the memory of both the President and Mrs. Harding, it was pointed out that the newspaper fraternity of Ohio has always regarded Mrs. Harding, as well as her husband, as among the most popular and successful newspaper workers in the State.

Executive Council Of The A. F. of L. Recommends Free Action As To Parties

By KENNETH CLARK
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.
El Paso, Texas, Nov. 21 (INS).—American organized labor must remain free from all political parties, whether Republican, Democrat, or Independent, the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor declared in a unanimous report to the organization's annual convention here today.

The council urged that the federation maintain its traditional non-partisan political policy and warned against uniting with any new political movement, particularly a distinct labor party, saying that the needs of American wage earners best could be served by working with already established parties.

The council further recommended that strenuous efforts would be made in the future to broaden and increase the scope of the Federation's non-partisan policy through the election of candidates, irrespective of party affiliations, who subscribe to labor legislative programs.

The report was referred to committee. Federation leaders anticipate no trouble in securing its adoption by the convention.

MASONIC CHOIR GOES TO BROOKVILLE

The Royal Blue Hospitaller Choir of two score members which sang at Curwensville last Sunday evening will journey to Brookville tomorrow afternoon where they will participate in a union service in which four congregations will have a part. The choir will leave the local Masonic rooms promptly at two o'clock, run a sleet or snow. On arrival at Brookville a short rehearsal will be held after which they will be entertained by the Brookville Knights Templars until the time of the service in the evening.

BOOM DR. ECKENER FOR AMBASSADOR TO UNITED STATES

By S. D. WEYER
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Berlin, Nov. 22.—A quiet but substantial boom has been started in certain official and business quarters for the appointment of Dr. Hugo Eckener as the next ambassador to the United States, International News Service learned today from exclusive and authoritative sources.

The hero of the trans-Atlantic delivery of the ZR-3 to the United States will arrive as a conquering hero when the liner Columbus docks at Bremen Sunday. He will be feted by national and municipal officials, cheered by an adoring populace and entertained with banquets, receptions, parades and torch light processions.

Informal feelers will be out to Dr. Eckener immediately after his arrival and the wish to honor him by giving him the important diplomatic post at Washington probably will be touched on discreetly when President Franz Ebert entertains the returning hero at a luncheon in his honor Wednesday.

The influential circles which are quietly preparing to advance the dirigible genius to an ambassadorship, point to his feat with the ZR-3 as most important and fruitful in bringing the United States and Germany together in the old spirit of friendship and co-operation, making both nations forget the bitterness of war days.

His feat, say his friends, was more to Germany than many years of foolish propaganda. They claim furthermore, that Dr. Eckener has the instinctive tact, skill in negotiations, personal charm and straightforwardness required in dealing with America. Besides he is known as a keen and sound business man.

RAILROAD STOCKS DOMINATED MARKET DURING THE WEEK

By W. S. COUSINS
I. N. S. Financial Editor

New York, Nov. 22.—Railroad stocks continued to dominate speculative interest in the stock market this week. Renewal of the country-wide demand for the stocks which have been bounding forward to higher price levels since Nov. 5 created a scene of violent commotion on the floor of the exchange and both the volume of transactions and the total number of different stocks traded in established new high records for the year.

In the concentration of buying of large blocks of stocks of Missouri Pacific, Katy, Wabash and some of the lower priced issues like Kansas City Southern, Wheeling and Lake Erie, Wall Street sees the activities of powerful financial interest which seek a reorganization and amalgamation of many of the strategic lines. This is therefore classified as investment buying for the "long pull" rather than speculative buying for quick profits, and has the effect of rapidly diminishing the floating supply of stocks. The influence of heavy buying orders at the market in such conditions results in sharp upward

"BUSINESS ON FIRMEST FOUNDATION I HAVE EVER KNOWN" SAYS SCHWAB IN AN INTERVIEW AT PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 21 (INS).—"Business is going ahead on the firmest foundation I have ever known," Charles M. Schwab declared in an interview here today.

"Tisms" were swept aside by an overwhelming verdict of the people in the recent election, the steel magnate said.

"The election acted to restore business to the safe and sane channels that have been tried by time and been found to be true," Schwab continued. "The Dawes plan is working wonders for Germany and the general condition of Europe, and will make better business all over the world." The record breaking sales in the New York stock market, are only of general interest to him, Schwab asserted, explaining he was only interested in his own stocks "letting the other fellows make the millions."

Schwab came here as a tribute to his old friend, Andrew Carnegie and will speak this afternoon at the annual Carnegie Day exercises at Carnegie Institute of Technology. He will leave late this afternoon for Akron where he will address Chamber of Commerce tonight.

Postal Workers Are Active In Boosting Their Just Claims

DuBois, Nov. 22.—There was a large gathering of postal employees in DuBois last evening, the employees of the local post office being hosts to the visitors. In the neighborhood of 60 postal employees were present at the Central Y. M. C. A., where they enjoyed a splendid dinner served by the local men. This dinner was prepared and served under the expert direction of Miss McKay and Mrs. George Monks, and proved to be a great treat.

The meeting was for the purpose of discussing measures to boost the proposed bill increasing the salaries of the postal employees. The meeting was presided over by Charles Ardary, of Clearfield, who was later elected permanent president. Chas. Wilson, of DuBois, was elected secretary.

The bill behind which the postal employees propose to get is Senate bill 1898. This is the same one that was passed by Congress and vetoed by President Coolidge. This bill will be re-introduced at the coming session of Congress and it is understood that it will be re-passed and this time will probably receive executive sanction.

The meeting was addressed by Rev. E. V. Brown, of Clearfield, on "The Public Debt To The Postal Employees." Twenty Clearfield postal workers attended the meeting.

Danny Kramer Leads As Contender For Crown Forfeited By Dundee

New York, Nov. 2 (INS).—"Danny" Kramer, of Philadelphia, Louis "Kid" Kaplan, Meriden (Conn.) Star and Jose Lombardo, featherweight champion of Panama, stood out today as leading contenders for the featherweight title resigned by Johnny Dundee as a result of their victories last night over Mike Dundee, Rock Island, Ill.; Bobby Garcia, army champion and Lew Paluso, Salt Lake City slugger, respectively.

Kramer was accorded first rank on last night's showing. His fight with Dundee was sensational. The decision provoked a display of temper by Dick Curley, Dundee's manager, which resulted in revocation of Curley's license.

Special policemen had to show Curley out. Before he went, however, he aimed a kick at the head of Chailey Mathison, one of the Judges. George L. Brower, boxing commission chairman said that an announced that Curley's license had been forfeited.

Kramer won cleanly over Dundee in a slugging match. There was some question about the Lombardo-Paluso decision, many believing Paluso had won a majority of the ten rounds. Kaplan was too fast for Garcia.

The fights were the first in the boxing commission's tournament designed to develop an outstanding contender to the featherweight crown. The tournament will be concluded within six weeks, and the winner will succeed to the title formerly held by Dundee.

Mrs. Walter Fullerton of Hyde, who is a surgical patient at the Rowley Hospital is getting along fine and expects to return home in a short time.

INSURGENT BLOC MAY DEMAND FULL PUBLICITY FOR ALL INCOME TAXPAYERS

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

Washington, Nov. 22 (INS).—Lines were being drawn today for a first class scrap in the coming session of Congress over the publicity clause of the Income Tax Law.

The arrival of members in great numbers has afforded leaders on both sides an opportunity to count noses, and from present indications it appears that party lines will be badly split and the issue closely drawn.

The attempt to wipe the section off the statute book, it appears may even result ultimately in the enactment of even more drastic publicity regulations. The insurgents who accepted the present regulation as a compromise originally proposed that income tax returns be made public documents in entirety. The present clause, making public only the payment made, was adopted over the protest of the Insurgents who finally voted for it.

Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, one of the insurgent leaders, today gave warning that the Progressive bloc would seek more publicity of returns, if the Administration opens the appeal fight.

"If any group undertakes to repeal the existing clause," Norris said, "I shall make an effort to pass my original amendment. It provided that all income tax returns should be public documents open to public inspection at all times. I would rather favor repeal of the present clause because it would give us an opportunity to enact a real publicity law."

Norris also defended the newspapers which published the payments of income tax payers.

"It was my intention in sponsoring the original amendment to provide for the publication of the returns," he added. "In my opinion, Congress had the same purpose in enacting the present clause. I don't believe the newspapers violated any law in publishing the amount of tax."

The Administration move to repeal the clause will start in the House. This notice was served on the Progressives by Senator Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania who fought the measure in the last Congress.

"A bill to repeal the publicity clause will be introduced in the next Congress," Reed said. "I think it ought to start in the House but it will be brought to a vote even if we have to make the move in the Senate."

MILITARY HONORS FOR MRS. HARDING

Washington, Nov. 22 (INE).—Military honors will be rendered at the funeral service for Mrs. Warren G. Harding at Marion, Ohio, Monday under orders issued today by the War Department.

Major General Omar Bundy, Commander of the Fifth Corps, Columbus, was instructed to send a company of 100 men, properly officered, to Marion on the day of the funeral, these to supplement the force of 25 regulars that are on duty at the Harding tomb.

SAYS MRS. HARDING HAD A VISION OF HER AFTER

Columbus, O., Nov. 21 (INS).—Just before she died, Mrs. Florence K. Harding, widow of former President Harding, seemed to arouse from a state of coma and see a vision, of what lies beyond, according to a telegram received here today by Mrs. John G. Battelle for many years a friend of the Hardings.

"Oh, See! See! See!" were Mrs. Harding's last words, the telegram said.

RETURNING NIMROD FINDS WIFE AND 2 CHILDREN HANGING

Canton, Ohio, Nov. 21 (INS).—Mrs. Ruth Burkhardt, 32, and her two children, Delle May, 8, and Donald, Jr., 7, were found hanging in the basement of the family home in Massillon this afternoon by the husband and father, Donald Burkhardt.

Burkhart returned home from a hunting trip and at 1:15 went into the basement and found the bodies hanging there. He said his wife was in good spirits when he left home. Working nights, Burkhardt left his work early today and went directly to the fields after going home. When he got back he found a note on the table. Contents of the note were not divulged but it is understood that the last words were from the mother.

DYING STATEMENT OF POLICEMAN ROY CANNOT BE USED

Norristown, Pa., Nov. 22 (INS).—Defense counsel for the three men on trial for the murder of Francis X. Roy, lower Merion township policeman, scored a signal victory today when Judge John Faber Miller ruled against the admission as evidence of an ante-mortem statement by Roy, in which he is said to have identified Lattimer McCabry, one of the defendants as the man who fired the shots which resulted in his death.

Norristown, Pa., Nov. 22 (INS).—The fate of three men, two of them said to be confessed members of the Ku Klux Klan, may be at stake today when Judge John Faber Miller decides whether or not he will allow an ante-mortem statement of Francis X. Roy, lower Merion township police officer, to be admitted as evidence in their trial for his murder.

The statement is admitted by both sides to be the trump card of the prosecution and the greater part of yesterday afternoon was taken up with a vigorous legal battle over its admissibility.

In the statement which the murdered police officer made before his death, he is said to have identified Lattimer McCabry, one of his brother officers, as the man who fired the shots which fatally wounded him on the night of July 3 when he went to investigate the burning of a cross on the grounds of Haverford College.

McCabry is now on trial with Robert Stewart, of Ardmore and John Burkholder, of Philadelphia, for the murder of Roy. Thus far the prosecution has offered no evidence to identify the three men as Roy's slayers and it is admitted the statement of the dead man is intended solely for this purpose.

With the jury absent, the Rev. Daniel E. Harren, pastor of the Church of the Lady of Good Council, Bryn Mawr, took the stand yesterday to tell of his talk with Roy on July 13 before he made his statement. The prosecution hopes by this to establish the fact that Roy really knew he was dying and was prepared to make an ante-mortem statement.

REV. H. L. JACOBS TO SPEAK

The pastor of Trinity Methodist church, Rev. Horace Lincoln Jacobs, has been engaged to speak to the Kiwanis Club of DuBois, Pa., on the annual occasion of "Ladies' Night." Extensive preparations are making for December 8. The Rotary Club, of Milton, Pa., has a standing arrangement with Rev. Jacobs for his addresses.

$40,000 BLAZE AT GLEN CAMPBELL HARD TO CONTROL

5 Business Houses and
4 Dwellings Burned
before Conflagration
Brought To An End

BARNESBRO HEARD

The town of Glen Campbell, in Adams county, was visited by a disastrous fire which broke out at 12:30 o'clock last night. Before flames could be checked nine of the town's buildings were destroyed.

The fire started in the corner grocery store of A. D. Hanaty and spread in both directions from the Hanaty store in the heart of the business section.

Among the fire sufferers were D. Hanaty, Glenwood Coal company, John B. Conner, E. C. Ake, Estate, Dreamland Theatre, Novelty Store, W. J. Crezesall, J. E. Miller and L. D. Smith. The burned buildings were business houses and the remainder dwellings. The loss is conservatively estimated at $40,000.

The Barnesboro Fire Department responded to a call for help and assisted the local department in fighting the flames, which were not under control until 4:30 this morning.

The Mahaffey fire department started for Glen Campbell with a chemical truck but the machine did not get off the slippery road about a mile beyond McGee's Mills and was wrecked.

Clearfield and a number of towns were asked for assistance but were unable to respond.

The bonds were found by who turned them over to the who believed the bonds were a Springfield, Crawford county, left in the Park when the discovered they were registered could not be disposed of with section. The bonds had been wrapped in an automobile blanket and shoved into a tunnel.

MOSHANNON RESIDENT FACES SERIOUS CHARGE

Thomas Fanning, of Moshammon, was arrested on the streets of Bellefonte a few days ago by Sheriff E. R. Taylor, charged with a statutory crime. Fanning, who has a wife and two children in Moshammon, left that place on Oct. 31, going to Clearfield where he is alleged to have induced Esther Carr, 18 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Carr, to accompany him to Bellefonte. The pair hiked to Bellefonte, being two days on the road. Since that time the pair have been living with Fanning's parents at Reopersburg. The information was made by the girl's father, who returned with her to Clearfield on Saturday, Nov. 15th. Fanning was lodged in jail in default of $2000 bail.—Phillipsburg Journal.

ANOTHER COMPLAINT AGAINST OUR SCHOOLS

Philadelphia, Nov. 21 (INS).—That "school is antagonistic to art and prevents the expansion of the soul," was the reason advanced by Joseph Burkhart, 15, for his non-attendance when arraigned in Juvenile Court today on a truancy charge.

"I want to live my life as I see fit," Joseph told the Judge after explaining that he spent nights reading and writing poetry and his days wandering about the city looking at works of art.

Joseph then astounded the judge by offering a 20-line verse on "The Soul" of his own composition.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

George Meek of the Bellefonte Watchman has the right idea. He says:

"Some day we are going to make a martyr of ourselves. We are going to cross a street at the same gait, with the same assurance of safety with which we have approached the crossing. We're going to be maimed, of course. Possibly 'bumped off' entirely. If the latter should happen it won't matter much to us and the family can recover more in damages than we're worth hanging around here anyway. The experiment will possibly save posterity from evolving into a duckin', dodgin' genus homo that looks more like it was totin' moonshine or had stolen someone's lamb than the properly poised individual it was created to be. All we ask in return for the great service we are thinking about rendering: pedestrian humanity is that there may be some one to carry on until motorists are made to understand that the man afoot has some rights that the one on wheels must respect."

The 1925 session of the Pennsylvania legislature, which convenes Monday, Jan. 5th, is now attracting the attention of the "political captains." Although Governor Pinchot has not taken any public stand as yet regarding his choice for Speaker of the 1925 House, he is again supporting C. Jay Goodnough, of Emporium, who was elected as his choice as speaker in 1923. There are a host of candidates, and legislators regarded as friendly to the Governor have been asked by persons close to the Governor to support Goodnough for re-election.

There has been a report that Grundy is asking Pinchot to support Goodnough after having obtained an agreement from Goodnough that if elected, he will permit Grundy to dictate the chairmanships of important committees. The organization will have its own candidate for speaker, with Harer, of Lycoming, being at present regarded as likely to win the organization's support. The state budget for the next two years will make provision for a new Eastern Penitentiary, Governor Pinchot intimated yesterday, in declaring that the prison should be moved from Philadelphia to the open country as soon as possible.

LOCAL ATTORNEY MARRIES TOLEDO, OHIO, YOUNG LADY

A wedding of interest was solemnized at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon when Esther May, daughter of Mrs. Cora J. Hotchkiss, of Toledo, Ohio, became the bride of John Mitchell Chase III, son of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Chase, of Clearfield.

The service was read by the Rev. Father Anthony J. Dean in the Episcopal residence at Toledo, in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends.

The bride, one of Toledo's charming young women, wore an afternoon costume of blue satin trimmed in gray fox fur with large black hat. She carried an arm bouquet of roses and chrysanthemums tied with ribbon of autumn shades.

Mrs. Anne Hotchkiss, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and wore a gown of rust satin trimmed in black fox and a picture hat of a black. Her arm bouquet of chrysanthemums was of autumn tones with streamers to match.

The bridegroom was attended by Dr. Ralph Edwin Boice as best man. Mr. Chase and his bride left following the bridal dinner in the bride's home in Hollywood avenue, for a wedding trip. After Jan. 1 they will be at home in Clearfield, Pa.

The bride is a graduate of the University School of Music, Ann Arbor, Michigan, having received an artist's diploma in piano. She has been employed during the last two years as a price movements. There were not lacking evidence of speculative profit taking and renewal of short selling this week. Bearish speculators who have been convinced that the momentum of the forward movement would spend itself and be succeeded by the "usual reaction" have been attempting to find the top of the current swing but thus far with little success, except in the industrial stocks where periodical selling waves have caused depressions in prices.

Money and industrial conditions were favorable to a resumption of the rally in stock prices. Call money loaned at 2 and 2-1-2 per cent and no disposition was seen on the part of the directors of the Federal Reserve Bank to increase the re-discount rate, despite the increase in re-discounts. Commodity prices showed a tendency to harden and industrial production in steel and other important commodities was distinctly on the upgrade.

A number of the high priced specialty and industrial stocks made new high prices for the year to date, the list including U. S. Steel, American Can, and Mack Trucks. Trading in these stocks was impressive in some sessions, though not as spectacular as in the railroad list. Oil stocks as a group lost ground, the switching of bullish speculators being seized upon as an aid to short selling by the bears. Motor, equipment and sugar stocks were active and strong throughout and Independent Steel shares were inclined to follow the lead of Steel Common in the later sessions.

Average prices of both industrial and railroad stocks in all important compilations have broken through into new high ground for the year. In the International News Service special list of 20 railroad stocks the average price at the close of business on Thursday was 76.21 against a previous high of 70.67 in August; Industrials 91.67 against 89.04 in the same month.

teacher in piano at the Toledo Conservatory of Music.

The bridegroom is the son of the late W. A. and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Chase. He is a graduate of St. Francis and the Clearfield High Schools and of the University of Michigan Law School. He served in the navy during the world war and shortly after its conclusion was admitted to the Clearfield county bar. For the past couple of years he has been associated with A. M. Liveright in the practice of the law under the firm name of Liveright & Chase. He is forging to the front in his profession. Mr. and Mrs. Chase have the best wishes of a host of friends for every success in the new relation.

DEATH OF MOTHER OF HAROLD PEARSON

Mrs. Priscilla Pearson, in failing health for a year and a half, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Woodhead, at Barnesboro, Wednesday night, Oct. 19th. She formerly lived at Philipsburg.

Born in England 78 years ago, Mrs. Pearson and her husband, the late James Pearson, who died in February, 1923, came to the Philipsburg region, where the family lived for 24 years. Twenty years ago they located at Barnesboro.

Children of the deceased are: Margaret, wife of Samuel Mitchell, of McDonald, Pa.; Tillie, wife of James Woodhead, of Barnesboro; Harold, of Chester Hill, well known here as a soloist with the Masonic choir; William, James and Joseph, of Barnesboro, and Lady Mary, wife of Sir William Veno, of England.

The funeral service will be held at the Episcopal Church, Barnesboro, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Burial will be made at Barnesboro.

LITTLE MISS ELEVEN OR SO HAS VARIED DAYTIME FROCKS

YES, we have no sameness in frocks for little Miss Eleven-or-so. Fashion says they must be simple, but may indulge in numberless ingenious "extras" to give them variety. The future for diversity which dominates the grown-up modes in all apparel is almost as forceful in the realm of children's clothes. There is diversity in fabrics, in colors and color combinations, in trimmings and considerable of it in styles themselves.

For everyday frocks, talls, flannels, jersey cloth, kasha and velveteen are presented in a variety of patterns which include stripes, plaids, cross-bar patterns, hairline stripes in two or three vivid colors and plain colors. Nearly all the frocks made of these cloths are cut on the simple lines shown here in a frock of striped flannel and many of them have collar and cuffs of heavy coarse natural linen. When hairline stripes are used pipings to match one of the colors in the stripes are effective. Thus a navy-blue twill with red and white stripes is piped with red silk and ornamented with a few round red buttons on the cuffs and at the throat. When a plain color is used the frock usually has embroidery in short bands or motifs as a finish and there are many frocks in which two plain colors are combined. Round necklines, prominent and long or three-quarter length sleeves.

Besides these utility dresses "little miss" has afternoon frocks of crepe de chine or velveteen in dark colors. They are miniatures of some of the very simple grown-up patterns and are amusing because so "diminutive." In these, sleeves are often half or three-quarter length. But her party frocks are "something else again"—as different as can be from those of older girls or grown people. For these crepe de chine, georgette crepe, thin silks and the finest laces are used, with ribbons and chiffon or artificial flowers in finishing touches.

FAREWELL SHOWER GIVEN RECENT BRIDE

Twelve girl friends of Mrs. Karl Wall, nee Miss Leona A. Shaw, surprised her with a shower and luncheon at her home on William street Thursday evening. Not only did the young ladies completely surprise the recipient of the shower by their coming, but they managed the affair so skillfully that they were able to decorate the home in tasteful yellow and white color scheme before their presence was disclosed to the guest of honor.

Mrs. Wall, who leaves next week to join her husband at Scranton where they expect to be located for some time, received many beautiful presents and the hearty well wishes of her friends and chums.

BROTHER AND SISTER DIE WITHIN HOUR

Death claimed two members of the Millard family, well known in the Philipsburg community, an hour apart Thursday evening, Nov. 20th. Miss Myrtle Edna Millard passed away at Clearfield at 5:30 and her brother, David G. Millard, died at his home at Gearhartville, at 6:30.

Miss Millard, who was a resident of Chester Hill until the death of her parents, has been living at the Clearfield County Home for the last three years. She had been afflicted since childhood, her condition becoming very serious recently. Death relieved her of her sufferings at the hour noted above.

The brother, David Millard, has been ill since early in July, though able to be up and around much of the time. He became bedfast a week ago. Stomach trouble with complications was the cause of his death.

Lesson for November 23

THE TRANSFIGURATION

LESSON TEXT—Luke 9:28-36.
GOLDEN TEXT—This is my beloved Son; hear Him—Luke 9:35.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Shows His Glory.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Beholding Christ's Glory.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Glory of Jesus Christ.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Transfiguration, A Preparation for the Cross.

While it is true that in this lesson the disciples are witnesses of Christ's glory, the full truth is that the manifestation of Christ's glory was to give to the discouraged disciples a foretaste of the glory of the kingdom. The hopes of the disciples were crushed when Christ announced His death on the cross. They were unable to see how victory could issue from death.

Jesus took with Him Peter, James and John and went into the mountain to pray. His chief aim in retirement was to get the disciples apart and into a state of receptivity so that He might show them the method of the kingdom. Before going to the mountain He declared that there were some standing in His presence who would not taste of death till they should see the Son of Man coming in His kingdom (Luke 9:27; Matt. 16:28). That their drooping spirits might be revived and their confidence restored, He is transfigured before them. Two men from the upper world are sent to converse with Him about His approaching death in Jerusalem (v. 31)—the very thing about which the disciples refused to talk. Then, too, God's own voice was heard in words of approval of Christ's course, directing them to hear the Master. Surely they cannot doubt His ability now to carry into execution His kingdom plans. The purpose, then, of the transfiguration is to give the disciples a foretaste of the coming kingdom, to enable them to see the kingdom in embryo. That this is true is not only shown by the context and circumstances, but by the inspired interpretation of one who was with Him and knew all that transpired (St. Peter 1:10-12; II. V.). Note the outstanding features of the kingdom as displayed in the transfiguration:

1. Jesus Christ the Glorified King on Mt. Zion (v. 29).
The glorified king on this mount was intended to symbolize the Messianic kingdom when Christ returns to the Mount of Olives in Jerusalem (Zech. 14:4-7). This is still in the future, and will be literally fulfilled.

2. The Glorified Saints With Christ (v. 30-31).
(1) Moses, who was once denied an entrance into Palestine, appears now in glory, representing the redeemed of the Lord who shall pass through death into the kingdom. Many thousands of the redeemed have fallen asleep and at the coming of the Lord shall be awakened to pass into the kingdom.

(2) Elijah, now glorified, represents the redeemed who shall pass into the kingdom through translation. Many shall be living upon the earth when the Lord shall come, and shall without dying be changed, and thus pass into the kingdom (I Cor. 15:50-53; I Thess. 4:14-18).

(3) They talk of the very thing which the disciples refused to believe, namely, the death of Christ.

III. Israel, in the Flesh, in Connection With the Kingdom, Represented by Peter, James and John (v. 28).
Israel shall be called from their hiding place among all nations of the earth and shall be gathered to Jesus Christ the King, as the central people in the kingdom (Ezek. 37:21-27).

(1) Peter proposes to build three tabernacles (v. 33). The Feast of Tabernacles looked forward to the glorious reign of Christ. Peter caught a glimpse of the significance of the transfiguration. His proposition showed that he thought of the Feast of Tabernacles, and therefore of the Millennium.

(2) The divine voice (v. 35). At this time God Himself uttered His words, assuring them that this One in glory was His Son Jesus Christ.

IV. The Multitude at the Foot of the Mountain (v. 37-43).
This is representative of the nations which shall be brought into the kingdom which shall be established over all. See Isaiah 11:10-12. The people here were grievously oppressed by the devil. About the time of Christ's first coming he did his best to harass men. Just before Christ's coming Satan will be especially active, for he knows that his time is short.

Life
Life in itself is neither good nor evil. It is the theater of good and evil as you make it.

Our Qualities
The qualities we have do not make us as individuals as those which we affect to have.—L. Rochefort-Cauld.

Repentance
Especially, repentance means a definite refusal to abide any longer in sin.—George Hodges.

Faithfulness Has No Future
Faithfulness may have its hour, but it has no future.—Presence.

The Perpetual Vision.
What lightens labor, sanctifies toil and makes a man good and strong, wise and patient, just and benevolent, both lowly and great, as well as worthy of intelligence and freedom, is the perpetual vision before him of a better world beaming through life's shadows.—Victor Hugo.

Much Headway Made Against Animal T.B.
The work of eradicating tuberculosis from the cattle herds of the country has been going forward satisfactorily in recent years that it is predicted by those in charge of the work of the United States Department of Agriculture that within eight years it is probable that as many as 30 states may be free of the plague. This will permit of the consolidation of the veterinary forces so that work may be carried on more rapidly in the remaining states where the extent of infection is greater. The systematic plan of eradication has been going on since 1917.

Work of Eradication Going on Quite Satisfactorily.
(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Plain System of Poultry Accounts Is Important
A definite record of expenditures and receipts is one of the greatest needs of many poultry keepers. Without it, the poultryman is hardly able to determine the extent of success or failure of his work.
In Farmers' Bulletin 1427, just issued, the United States Department of Agriculture gives a simple system of poultry accounts by which the necessary records can be easily kept. This system may be used either by the poultry keeper who has a small flock or by the commercial poultryman.
A study of his records kept according to this system will enable the poultryman to determine which parts of the operation of the farm are profitable and where the costs are too much. The actual equipment necessary and the amount of feed required for the operation of a commercial poultry farm are also given.
Copies of Farmers' Bulletin 1427, Poultry Accounts, may be had free of charge upon application to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Improvement in Quality Assists Value of Lamb
Most of the sheep in South America show a decided lack of breeding and care, which means that in order to get a first-class product on the market some improvements must be made. These improvements require very high expense and labor, advises E. G. Cady, associate animal husbandman, in making suggestions along this line.
The use of pure bred rams will make more improvement in the appearance of the fleeces than any other one thing. These rams can be put on the farm at from $50 to $500 per head. At the present time, a great number of rams run with the ewes for the entire year. These rams have very poor conformation and a light wool covering, and in many cases they are closely related to some of the ewes. This haphazard method of breeding has resulted in sheep that are poorly bred and narrow and shallow bodied. Their wool is also short, coarse and open, which makes a poor quality product for the market. The ewe with a pure bred ram will make a marked change in the appearance and weight of the lambs. Save the ewe lambs and breed them after they are a year old. Buy a new ram or trade with a neighbor.

5 to 25 Miles in 8 Seconds

With a full sense of the seriousness of the statement—carefully weighing the meaning of every word—Chrysler-Maxwell engineers, without reservation, promise you, in this new Maxwell, performance surpassing in every essential any four-cylinder car in the world today.
To make that sweeping assurance more definite and specific—we promise you in speed, in power, in pliability of power, in swift response, and even more particularly in riding steadiness and comfort, results no four-cylinder car has yet been able to attain.
To go still further into details, the new Maxwell has speed capacities far beyond any car of its type and class, and in the rare instances in which they may have to be used, will register them with an absence of vibration without precedent in four-cylinder construction.
Chrysler-Maxwell engineers have been actuated by the conviction that in addition to its inherent and natural economies, the four-cylinder principle possessed possibilities of power and speed capable of being translated into ease and steadiness which have never been fully developed.

They set out to overcome what have all too readily been accepted in the past as limitations in the four-cylinder engine and to convert these limitations into positive advantages.
No one can doubt that success has crowned their efforts, after even so short an experience as a half-hour's driving demonstration of the car.
Judged by the unusual and extraordinary character of its performance, this Maxwell is literally a new and immeasurably better type of four-cylinder motor-car.

They set out to overcome what have all too readily been accepted in the past as limitations in the four-cylinder engine and to convert these limitations into positive advantages.
No one can doubt that success has crowned their efforts, after even so short an experience as a half-hour's driving demonstration of the car.
Judged by the unusual and extraordinary character of its performance, this Maxwell is literally a new and immeasurably better type of four-cylinder motor-car.

THE BUSINESS CYCLE

Business experts are pretty well agreed that the nation is entering upon a new business cycle. The present year, as they see it, has marked the end of the last cycle, the slump and the period of readjustment. Now begins the up-turn. They do not promise any "boom" remarkable in intensity or duration, but they believe there is now beginning a period of general and prosperous business activity which will last through next year, at least.

This is a cold, scientific conclusion of level-headed observers. Recent Wall Street activity, with a buyers' market and records broken on the Stock Exchange, is merely a more temperamental manifestation of the same conclusion.

The renewed activity comes, the observers say, because the country is ready for it. Conditions are right, and there is nothing, political or otherwise, likely to interfere.

The November bulletin of one of the country's leading banks, accepting this favorable opinion, pays its respects to three obstacles which loom large in the minds of pessimists.

The first of these is the fear of greatly increased competition from abroad, as Europe recovers economically. The bank discounts this fear on the ground that as foreign nations increase their outputs of manufactured goods, they also become better consumers for our raw materials and many of our manufactured goods—also better customers for their own products.

The second obstacle feared, that of high wages, is considered largely offset by the high purchasing power of the American people which is made possible by the high wages.

The third obstacle, a belief that American industries are over-developed and over-expanded, is pronounced true only in exceptional cases. Industry in general seems sure to be fully occupied.

BAN ON FIREARMS

Sears, Roebuck & Company, the big Chicago mail order house, has discontinued the sale of all forms of firearms. This is a big and praiseworthy contribution to public safety. It has been recognized for years that the indiscriminate sale of pistols was a boon to criminals and a prolific cause of fatal accidents. There would be no "crime wave" if criminals had no "guns," and it was always easy for them to get weapons from mail order houses when, for any reason, they could not or did not care to buy them locally. With such sources closed to them, it will be easier for states and cities to limit crime by controlling their own arms traffic.

Other mail order houses should follow this example, and probably will. Like Sears, Roebuck & Company, they should feel that the moral side of all public questions is the right side, and also that "it is good business". But the evil will never be adequately dealt with until the government regulates the distribution of firearms.

GERMAN JUNK

American owners of German paper marks are asked to stop hugging the delusion that the stuff is worth anything. The worst comes from the American Chamber of Commerce in Berlin, which is tired of receiving letters from Americans asking when the marks can be redeemed, and what they are worth. The Chamber reminds inquirers that the German government is not redeeming those marks, and that the paper mark went out of business a year ago when the rentenmark came into use. Also that many German banks and other institutions have taken the paper money out of their vaults and sold it by the ton to junk dealers.

Here is a good opportunity for American junk dealers, for it is said that there is more of the worthless German currency in the United States than in Germany.

Progress Editorials for Women

HASTY REMEDIES

By FLORENCE DAVIES

The other day a college professor was talking to a group of clubwomen about the state of the world today. Before he finished it was very evident that he was a strong nationalist. He said of course some stirring things about our country and the audience clapped and cheered vociferously.

That was all right enough, but the very week before when a member of the League for Peace and Freedom gave as strong a talk on Internationalism the same women clapped just as hard.

What's the matter? Are those women hypocrites?

By no means. Were they turncoats? Not at all.

No, the answer is much simpler than any of these, yet rather more serious. The club woman who claps for one thing one week and the opposite thing the next week, has not learned to think a problem clear thru to the end.

She is not too lazy to think it thru, or too dull to understand it. She has simply never had the opportunity to grasp the larger significance of many of the national and world problems which face her today.

Her leaders in club work have been sincere but not thoroughly trained or informed, and they have begun with remedies—before they have studied causes.

If you ask the average club woman if she believes in centralization of power in any country, giving much power to the few, and taking it away from the many, she will doubtless answer NO.

She will be quick enough to tell you that over-centralization of power will rob smaller groups of their independence.

Curwensville's Own Column

Try Leathers had several fingers crushed under a machine for rolling leather at the Dell tannery the other day.

Agess Erhard desires the Progress through this letter to thank the Clearfield fire department for their promptness in responding to the appeal for assistance at the Meyer mill fire. The Rescue boys also extend the thanks. If an opportunity should ever present itself, by which the assistance should become necessary they will respond as readily as did the Clearfield department. Curwensville firemen also wish to thank the ladies and all other persons who so kindly remembered them by serving coffee and sandwiches while on duty.

After fire alarm was sounded, about one o'clock yesterday morning, the firemen out of the Clearfield fire department were on the jump. The fire had started in the remnant of the mill property and the residence near there became alarmed and had the call sounded. Twenty minutes work snuffed the flames beyond doing any more damage.

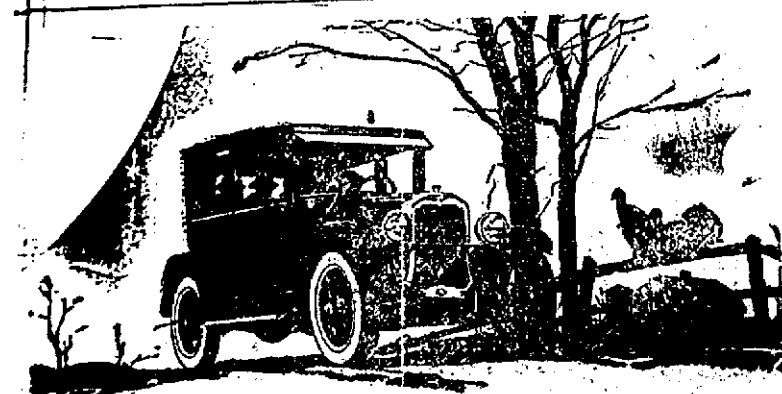

John L. Bilger, a prominent farmer and respected citizen, residing in a farm in Bloom township, died at 1:30 o'clock yesterday, following an illness lasting several years of asthma. He was in the 71st year of his age. He was born in Bloom township and was a son of John and Catherine Bilger, both deceased, and had lived there all of his life with the exception of a few years spent in the west. Prominent in his life, he had been elected to and held office faithfully in every office of the township. He is survived by his widow and three sons: Austin, of Pike township; Harry, of Curwensville, and John, living on the farm. The funeral will be held from the farm home on Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Interment in the Greenville cemetery. Mr. Bilger was generally known in his neighborhood as a man of genial disposition and honest in all of his dealings with his neighbors. In home life he was kind and indulgent, providing for all needs by which the home might be made cheery and comfortable.

R. R. S. Laverty, the divine in the wheel chair, conducted chapel service in the High School Thursday morning. He had been in Curwensville for almost a week and occupied the pulpit in the Baptist Church last Sabbath.

Mary Penella, Filbert street, was taken to Clearfield hospital yesterday for an operation and also for medical treatment.

Curwensville South-Sea Jargon. Bench-jargon is a curious jargon which has developed as a means of communication between English-speaking traders and the Islanders of the western Pacific. It derives its name from that of an edible marine organism, the fishing of which flourished in the South seas in the middle of the last century. Nearly all the words in this language are English, but they are strung together by the natives in accordance with the rules of their own speech.

Nature's "Cold Storage"

An avalanche that swept across a road near Rochetville, France, not long ago dropped a huge block of ice that contained the carcass of a wild boar. Just how the boar became imbedded in the ice is not clear, but probably it was caught in the slide, and the mass of snow, closing round it, solidified and thus covered it into cold-storage pork.—Youth's Companion.

Bliss

One becomes used to the frank displays of marital felicity, pre and post, that occur on the top of Fifth avenue busses. Here is a slight variation. The young man had just visited the barber and was describing the details to his wife. Finally words failed him—off came his hat and his shining head was placed under his wife's nostrils, that she might inhale the aroma of the hair tonic to which he had succumbed.—New York Sun.

Expression Has Altered

The true phrase "to the bitter end" was "better end," and was used to indicate a crisis or moment of extremity. When in a storm an anchored vessel had paid out all of her cable the rope ran out to the better end—that is, to the end that was in better condition because seldom used.

Don't Say "Lost"— Say H. & C. 176 or Bell 47-J

Nothing is lost until after it's been advertised for in the Progress Lost and Found Column.

After that, it's generally not reported among the missing.

We wouldn't be telling you this, if it weren't for the unusual results that these little Lost ads are accomplishing all the time.

Quick returns, unexpected returns, returns in cases that the losers thought were hopeless—that's the sort of "everyday miracles" that are being performed through the Lost and Found column.

No wonder we say the word "lost" doesn't mean as much as it used to!

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE
In the Estate of Thomas Stoker, late of the borough of Ramey, Clearfield county, Pennsylvania, deceased. Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary in the above named estate have been granted to the undersigned, to whom, all persons owing said estate are requested to make payment, and those having claims or demands against it to make known the same without delay.

Onehalf the world not only does not know how the other half spends its money, whose chickens they are forced to steal to keep the wolf from the door, nor what to do with some of the "other half" when they are caught with the goods.

That was demonstrated by a happening in local police circles the first of the week. For some time a great deal of chicken stealing has been done in the East End and Lawrence township sections adjoining the borough.

On Tuesday last the police captured Harry Bailey of the Sheep Rocks on complaint of a Mrs. Hubler, a neighbor of Bailey's, who charged Bailey with stealing eleven of her chickens.

A hearing was had before Squire John, where the police say, it developed that Bailey, who has a family of six or seven children received a pay check of $5 the week previous for digging coal in a local mine. Of this amount the provider for his flock of seven invested $3 in a quart of moonshine and spent extravagantly all of the remaining $2 for provisions for his family and thus providing a little short of enough to go around. Bailey is said to have "snagged" the eleven chickens of his neighbor to help out.

When the story came out Bailey made a plea for clemency, offered to reimburse Mrs. Hubler for her chickens out of money he is going to earn in the future and agreed to go elsewhere with his family to secure work in the mines if he was not prosecuted further. The Squire and police were willing and that arrangement was made.

Bailey is the man who was running the boarding house near the sewer pipe works a year or so ago when a Phillipsburg man was killed in a drunken tow.

The last case to go to trial for this week was that of the Clearfield National Bank against the Madera Bank which was taken up before Judge Heck Friday morning.

The attorneys interested are Judge Bell and J. Mitchell Chase for the plaintiff, while John C. Arnold represents the Madera bank. The case is an interesting one and is built around an alleged forged endorsement of a check for $835, which was presented for payment at the Madera bank and after being paid, in the due course of banking, was returned to the Clearfield National Bank, charged to the drawer's account and marked paid, only to have the allegation of the forged endorsement raised several weeks later.

The check in dispute was drawn in February, 1922, by Chase & Chase in favor of a client at Madera, representing this client's share in an estate. The payee happened to be a woman named Christie and a short time previous to the settlement of the estate had a scrap with and separated from her husband. She alleges the estranged husband got her mail and opening the letter containing the check forged her endorsement thereon and presenting the check at the Madera bank got the $835 on it.

The women also alleges that she learned of the forgery when she came to Clearfield four or five weeks after the check had been sent her to get her money. In the meantime the check in question, following the custom of the Madera bank was sent thru to the Tradersmen's Trust Company of Philadelphia, who sent it in the course of its banking procedure to the Clearfield Trust Company for collection and it was then presented to the Clearfield National Bank, which owns the building, through its farm. The case was taken up to the account of Chase & Chase and marked paid.

When Chase & Chase informed the Clearfield National Bank that the endorsement was forged that bank thereupon returned the check to the Clearfield Trust Company, which institution sent it back over the route it came into their possession but when it got to the Madera bank they refused to return the money they had paid out upon its presentation and the law suit followed.

The testimony tended to show that Tony Christie, the husband, got the money. His wife testifying that he gave her $900 about the time the check was paid, but she did not know that it was part of her $835. Christie then left Madera, his wife secured a divorce and she has since married a man named Bloom. The jury decided that the Madera bank was liable as they accepted the forged endorsement. A verdict was thereupon returned in favor of the Clearfield National Bank for $835, with interest from February, 1922.

The jury in the case of Warren Charles, of Bloom township, against the County Commissioners of Clearfield County, which was on trial before Judge Chase for the past couple of days, rendered their verdict last morning, in which they find

Mr. Charles was damaged to the extent of $1,25 by the re-creation of the Grampian-Lathersburg State road through his farm. The case was taken on to court for adjudication (appeal from the award of the jury). The viewers awarded Mr. Charles $900, but he refused to accept it and the appeal followed.

The officers of the local Jewish congregation, which owns the building, by their attorney W. Bridge Brown, began ejectment proceedings against Tony Duplas, who is the New York lunch on Third street. The effort to eject Duplas grew out of the disclosure made by his art that Duplas was running a poker game on the side in the lunch room.

Duplas came to Clearfield for a dance.

It Happens Every Day

When you're sure that everything is under control and going well in the kitchen and then, without any warning, your cook develops a sudden attack of temper and marches out one afternoon just before dinner time—

And you have to "jump in" and get the meal and then your husband comes home and dinner isn't ready and he has to set the table and help with the dishes afterward and you both feel as though civilization had slipped back a couple of ages—

And this goes on the next day—and the next—even though you're looking everywhere for a cook, and at the end of the week your husband throws down his dish-towel and says "We simply can't go along this way any more—we've aged five years in the last five days!"

And then suddenly you have a rejuvenating idea and step to the phone and give the Progress a Help Wanted ad.

And the next night the new cook—that you picked from the half-dozen who answered your ad—is on the job—and you and your friend, husband, have nothing to do but dress for dinner—</

SPEEDY VENGEANCE VISITED ON EGYPT FOR STACK MURDER

London, Nov. 22. (INS.)—A battalion of East Lancashire troops has been ordered from Malta to Egypt, the order taking effect as impressive funeral services were being held in Cairo today for Sir Lee Stack, commander in chief of the Egyptian army, the victim of assassins' bullets, according to a news agency dispatch received from Malta.

The cabinet was summoned today to consider the proposed draft of the bill to Egypt suggested by General Allenby.

Cairo, Nov. 22. (INS.)—Egypt's promise of speedy vengeance for the murder of Sir Lee Stack, 'sirdar of the Egyptian army and governor general of the Sudan, moved toward fulfillment today with one of the alleged assassins in custody and other arrests expected.

The man under arrest has been identified by the taxicab driver in whose car the assassins escaped and whose complete confession the police said they possessed.

The funeral of Sir Lee today was one of the most imposing Cairo ever witnessed, all of Cairo and the entire garrison participating in the solemn ceremony.

The troops Sir Lee led were issued ammunition as a precaution against possible outbreaks. The coffin was watched by an armed guard throughout the night.

Deny Hitch In Plans Of Van Sweringens For A Big Merger Of Railroads

New York, Nov. 21 (INS.)—That a hitch has developed in the plans of the Van Sweringens for the unification of various railroads was denied by O. P. Van Sweringen in an interview here today.

"Counsel of different roads involved are tentatively blocking out instruments involved in consummation of the plan," he said. "We had more than enough shares pledged to insure the success of the undertaking from a corporate standpoint."

"The drafts or leases are not yet completed, but they will be ready very soon," Van Sweringen declared.

MRS. WILLIAM WILSON

The Death Angel visited the home of William Wilson on West Second avenue at 5:45 o'clock on the morning of Nov. 17, 1924, and removed therefrom his beloved wife, Emma Wilson. The deceased had not been in the best of health for some time but death was due to a stroke.

She was born in Richmond, Va., 52 years ago. She was married to William Wilson, Sept. 18, 1900, and was over the faithful, loving wife. She was a lifelong member of the Baptist church and lived a consistent, Christian life. A member of the Rose of Sharon Household of Ruth, this organization held its services at her grave.

She is survived by her husband one daughter, Mrs. Paul Webb, of Curwensville and three grandchildren. Interment was made in Oak Hill cemetery at Curwensville. Rev. W. E. Gibbons of the Allen A. M. E. church officiated.

Those from out of town who attended the funeral were Edward and Charles Wilson, of Williamsport; Mrs. Lynn Mullen and James Wilson, of Pottstown; Mrs. John Ukert and Mrs. W. R. Jackson, of Phillipsburg; Mrs. Clara Harris, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Webb and George Halterman, of DuBois; Mrs. M. S. Andrew, of Port Jervis and a number of Curwensville friends of the deceased.

HELPED HER IN EVERY WAY

So Writes Mrs. Trombley of Sharon, Vt., Concerning Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sharon, Vermont.—"I was weak and run-down, had a tired feeling and bearing-down pains. I saw an advertisement in the newspaper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began taking it. It has stopped these bearing-down pains and other bad feelings, and has helped me in every way. I have so much faith in the Vegetable Compound that I keep it on hand all of the time and recommend it whenever I have the opportunity."—Mrs. LEWIS TROMBLEY, Sharon, Vermont.

Glad to Help Others
"I had pains in my back and sides for many months, and my work would have to be left undone at those times. My sister told me what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing her, so I tried it, and from the third bottle I was well and everyone thought I looked better. I am glad to help others regain their health, and you may use my testimonial."—MABEL HARTMANN, 1821 Greene Ave., Brooklyn, N.Y. You must believe that a medicine that has helped other women will help you. You should try it.
